

We were informed that granddaddy also wrote editorials for what is now the Herald Advocate. It would be such a happy surprise to find something he had written so long ago, although I have a letter written in beautiful penmanship by him just before his death in 1910, written to my precious dad, acknowledging my birth. For years he was a Justice of the Peace for the district and was re-elected receiving the solid vote of the district and most everyone in Wauchula had their books settled by Judge Cason.
