

have, to sleep, as our dear mother is sleeping. May we rest in hope of meeting them to praise God forever. Amen.

There were several more pages of the story about the faith of his mother and father written by a grieving and loving son but he was thankful for the years he had with his mother and for her great love for church and family. He says he is not grieving but his words tell how much he misses her. Francis Marion Carlton was a Primitive Baptist minister.
